Mystery Greeter

Type: ___X_____ Introductory _____ Working _____ Closing _____ Game

Low Risk – Getting to know each other	Growing Risk – Personal awareness	Ending – Saying goodbye	Active Exercise – For group building and fun

Optimum Group Size: 5-15

Materials Needed: none

Outline of Activity:

1. One person stands with back to group to be "greeted".
2. The rest of the group quietly decides who is going to the "mystery greeter".
3. That person then walks up to the other person and disguises their voice, and "greets" them anonymously (behind their back-not to their face) then moves back to the group.
4. The greeters should share an unknown fact about themselves while "greeting".
5. The one who was greeted must then turn around and pick out the "Mystery Greeter".
6. Take turns with who is "greeted".

Goal:

1. Learn names
2. Have fun

How to Process:

1. What clues did you listen for to identify the mystery greeter?
2. How helpful was the unknown fact in making your selection?
3. What information was most surprising about others in the group?
4. What assumptions did you make that made this activity more difficult?
5. Was it easier to approach others when they didn't know who you are? Why?

Source or Submitted by: